Automotive Service Councils of California Proudly Announces New Corporate Partnership with Autologic Diagnostics

SACRAMENTO – The Automotive Service Councils of California is proud to announce its most recent corporate partnership with Autologic Diagnostics, a comprehensive diagnostic support solution designed to deal with the challenges of today's more complex vehicles.

Autologic's latest innovation, DrivePRO, provides a complete diagnostic service to independent repair shops in a single, ruggedized, Windows 10 platform with integrated CarDAQ-Plus3 J2534 interface. The offering includes Autologic's advanced European diagnostic software and Domestic/Asian coverage, along with Remote Assisted Programming (RAP). DrivePRO is fully integrated with Autologic's brand-specific support service, AutologicLive, which is delivered by its team of OEM-trained Master Technicians. With DrivePRO repairs shops can confidently code and program complex, modern vehicles across European, Asian, and Domestic makes with coverage through current model year.

"Autologic is dedicated to empowering independent repair shops by delivering the tools and educational resources necessary to keep up with the advanced technology transforming our industry," said Kevin FitzPatrick, VP at Autologic Diagnostics. "Groups like ASCCA are so important to the elevation of the automotive repair industry and we are excited to be their newest corporate partner."

Established in 1999 and with customers in over 120 countries, Autologic Diagnostics is changing the game in aftermarket diagnostics by going beyond the diagnosis stage. They empower technicians to meet the challenges of today's increasingly complex vehicles through a range of advanced diagnostics, programming, and remote services.

"If you're looking to improve the way your shop repairs vehicles or a better way to diagnose problems, Autologic Diagnostics can help you with the variety of services they offer," said Todd Westerlund, Chair, ASCCA Revenue and Benefits Committee. "With over 20 years of experience, Autologic Diagnostics can help you find faults more accurately as well as repair more cars faster and with fewer mistakes."
