ASCCA New Website Feature for Jobseekers & Employers/Recruiters

Sacramento, CA – October 11, 2011 – The leadership of the Automotive Service Councils of California (ASCCA) is proud to announce the newest feature added as a resource to the association's website – a Job Board.

This new feature will help connect ASCCA members with qualified candidates, while providing a specialized niche for employers to place advertisement for the most qualified professionals. It will also assist schools and their students with job placement opportunities.

Features provided to jobseekers:

- The ability to post resumes online anonymously;
- The ability to access the newest and freshest jobs available to professionals seeking employment;
- The ability to create job alerts, with matching search criteria emailed directly to the jobseeker;
- The ability to create a jobseeker account, allowing for the personal management of resumes and job alerts;
- The ability to view offers from employers

Features provided to employers and recruiters:

- The ability to view resumes posted by some of the best professionals in the field;
- The ability to reach the most qualified candidates by posting job openings on the Job Board
- Recruitment products right for any staffing or budget need;
- The ability to quickly post job openings and manage online recruiting account;
- The ability to easily browse candidates interested in posted positions

ASCCA is excited about the opportunity to bring the brightest professionals and potential employers together – this newest ASCCA member benefit is another step toward enhancing the automotive repair industry.

Founded in 1940, the Automotive Service Councils of California is the largest independent automotive repair organization in California. Its members represent all areas of the automotive repair industry, including mechanical, auto body, suppliers and educators.

"To elevate and unite Automotive Professionals, and give them voice."
